SIX SECRETS FOR SUCCESS ON THE NCLEX-RN

- Treat your preparation like you are getting ready for a marathon. This schedule will help you build your “question-answering stamina” and knowledge base
- Practice, practice, practice – the more questions you have answered before taking the NCLEX, the more confident and prepared you will be. Most experts recommend that students complete at least 5,000 questions before taking their exam.
- Rationales, rationales, rationales – the focus of your studying shouldn’t be reviewing the textbook --- it should be reviewing the rationales for both correct and incorrect answers. The more you understand about why a question is right or wrong, the better prepared you will be.
- Don’t be overconfident. It is important to understand that although you passed the NCLEX-PN, the NCLEX-RN is a completely different animal. In fact, bridge students have a higher probability of failing the NCLEX-RN on the first time due to feeling that, “I passed once before, this will be the same.”
- Block out all distractions. Let your friends and family know that during the next 16 weeks, you will be studying, studying, studying. Preparing for the NCLEX-RN must be your life. The sacrifices are real, but the reward is worth it!
- Take advantage of all the tools at your disposal. All of these tools have been provided at no additional cost to you. The NCLEX is not based upon the information found in one book or one program. Use them all!
